STATE ASKED TO AID COUNTY IN RELIEF BURDEN

Grier With Legislators to Get Appropriation for Aged And Indigents

California state government is being asked by the San Bernardino county board of supervisors to assume a larger share in paying for aid to the aged and to the indigents.

C. E. Grier, Upland, chairman of the board, is in Sacramento, personally directing the campaign to bring relief to the local taxpayers. The financial situation in this county is not much different than in other countries and the state legislators are being asked to assume a larger share of the relief load.

TELEGRAM SENT

The supervisors sent the following telegram to Assemblymon Godfrey Andreas and Senator Ralph E. Swing:

"We are informed senate social security committee and assembly welfare committee resolved into joint conference to adopt legislative program for public welfare. . . The financial condition of taxpayers in your county makes it imperative that you work for inclusion into this general program additional assistance to the counties on aged aid and relief to indigent people. . We are expecting heavy increase in delinquent tax payments and the situation is so serious that it is quite possible it may seriously affect the public schools and other necessary functions of local government"

During the Merriam administration the legislature in special session appropriated $6,000,000 to the counties to assist in financing the relief program. If this appropriation, San Bernardino county received $200,000 to apply on its relief outlay, thus eliminating the necessity of a tax increase.

Pomona College Men Vote Against Going To War Overseas

Answer to what the average college man thinks about going overseas again in the event of war was voiced on the Pomona college campus. Joining with him in this expression was the typical college co-ed.

In a test poll taken at Pomona college, 59 per cent of the men and 73 per cent of the women turned thumbs down on being involved in a war abroad. At the same time only 10 per cent of the men indicated they would refuse to bear arms in defense of their country, 550 votes being cast.

Jury Blames Truck Driver in Death-Dealing Accident

After driving a dump truck at 75 miles an hour, Charles Wincil Hawkinson, 34, of Long Beach, died Sunday at the San Antonio Community hospital, following an accident on Valley boulevard, east of Ontario. An inquest today resulted in the blame being placed on the victim of the accident for reckless driving.

The truck crashed head-on into a cattle-filled truck and trailer driven by James M. Bowers of Puente. The driver of the cattle truck escaped injury.

GIRLS WILL SELL POPPIES SATURDAY

Legion Auxiliary Preparing To Offer Flowers on Streets of City

With the hope that everyone who can do so will join in the observance of Poppy day and pay tribute to those who gave their lives in defense of democracy, and at the same time give aid to those who still are paying with maimed bodies and blighted lives, the Upland unit of the American Legion Woman's Auxiliary is preparing to sell Memorial day poppies on the streets of the city Saturday, May 27, annual Poppy day.

Mrs. W. J. Larkin, poppy chairman, and her committee are making arrangements for the annual sale. The poppies will be sold on the streets by little girls in red poppy dresses and members of the Auxiliary will be on hand to give them assistance.

VETERANS MAKE POPPIES

Each poppy has been shaped with painstaking care by some disabled veteran. Each one is slightly different from the others because they are made entirely by hand. Some are more perfect than others, due to the varying skill of the veterans, but all represent the best efforts of their makers to reproduce in crepe paper the wild Flanders poppy which grew and bloomed along the battle front in France and Belgium.

These poppies are being sold for the benefit of the living victims of the World war and of their dependent families. The Legion Auxiliary members are giving freely of their time and effort to make a success of the sale of 1000 red poppies. The work is entirely volunteer, all the money received going to the disabled veterans and their families.

"Americans are thinking more about democracy and valuing it more highly these days because its destruction in other countries has made us consider what life here would be like without it," said Mrs. Larkin.

"It should be considered both a privilege and a duty to do what we can now for those men who sacrificed so heavily to help protect our democracy."

Yellowtail! Yellowtail! Such was the familiar cry as the fishing boats made their appearance at the docks in Newport on Sunday afternoon. Most of the boats ran into a big school of these fighting fish, and gave their patrons plenty of sport. A count of one boat totaled 65 yellowtail besides barracuda and sea bass. The sea was fairly alive with fish on Sunday and fishermen say they are now here to stay, so some good fun can be looked forward to by deep sea fishermen.

CHAFFEY SETTING FOR MEETING ON VITAL PROBLEMS

No date was set but Dr. Paul Perigord, U. C. L. A. professor and former French resident, declared in an address at noon today that "some time all the nations of the world will get together."

With more than 300 men and women present in the men's gymnasium on the Chaffey campus, Dr. Perigord spoke as a feature of the Laymen's Educational Conference. His address followed a morning program of discussions. Four different groups for discussing pertinent issues were formed for the afternoon program.

Failure of nations in Europe to cooperate and the fact that freedom is denied individuals were reasons cited by the educator for the terrible conditions that exist."

Wide interest in the address and the general program virtually assures continuance of the conference as an annual event. Suggested by U. J. Schmid, Ontario, district governor Lions clubs and supported by all service clubs and other agencies in the district, the conference brought persons together to discuss mutual problems.

Dr. William G. Campbell, U. S. C., in the morning panel discussion on "Have We Too Much Education?" declared that education is more than just acquisition of facts. "Schools should put honor into labor," he added.

J. P. Gifford, Union Oil Co., urged schools to pay more attention to the training of students to get along with people.

G. A. Hanson, one of the members of the panel discussion group, said that today's young people are not at home enough, pointing out that in former years boys and girls were with their parents most of the time. Ellery Wright urged definite training for statesmanship.

The gift is for every person who is a visitor here from some other state. Persons who have guests or will have guests are urged to advise The News.

Roast Pig Receives Share of Attention At Picnic Saturday

Attracting special attention at the All-States picnic in Ontario Saturday was a section of the long Iowa table on which reposed in gastronomic excellence a real roast pig. The pig, purchased and dressed locally, was expertly roasted and provided a feast for the party of about 40 picnickers gathering at that particular table, which was sponsored by a group of women.

Before the carver wielded his knife, the pig shared honors with the stalks of growing corn that stood in rows along the Iowa table.

Observe Memorial Day, Is Appeal of General Chairman

BY F. E. O'BRIEN,
General Chairman Memorial Day Committee

As the thirtieth of May is again drawing near, we are reminded of the secred duties we owe to the men who made the supreme sacrifice or risked their lives that we may enjoy the blessings of a free and undivided nation—the greatest country in the world.

This Memorial day, instituted by the G. A. R. under proclamation of its commander, Gen. John A. Logan, to revere the memories of our dead heroes of the Civil war, has been extended to include the veterans of all wars and also our departed relatives—a day which is different from all other holidays—a day in which we should lay aside our sports and hilarity for the sober realization and appreciation of our "Land of the Free".

Is it too much to ask every patriotic American citizen of the Chaffey district to observe this day by attending the parade and the worthwhile program in the beautiful Chaffey auditorium, thereby setting an example to the younger generation?

EVENTS LEAD UP TO MEMORIAL DAY

Patriotic Observance Will Be Started Thursday at Chaffey

Events leading up to the formal observance of honoring heroes of American wars will begin Thursday morning, F. E. O'Brien, general chairman of the Memorial day committee, announced today.

On Thursday at 10 a. m., Chaffey high school will hold a Memorial assembly for the annual Richardson patriotic oratorical contest. The general public is invited.

On Sunday at 10:45 a. m., members of all patriotic societies have been invited to meet in the Bethel Congregational church, Ontario, for Memorial services. Rev. Chas. L. Knight will deliver the sermon.

This will be followed by placing of flowers on the graves by the Women's Relief Corps, assisted by the Sons and Daughters and Auxiliary to the Sons. Mrs. D. F. Gorham, president of the W. R C., requests that all flowers be at the cemetery at 1:30 p. m. After decoration of the graves, the W. R. C. will hold a service at the monument of the Unknown Soldiers of the Civil war, to which all patriotic orders and the children of the community are invited.

STATES PICNIC TO BE ANNUAL EVENT ON EUCLID AVENUE

Success of Saturday's Celebration Leads to Plans For Next Year

As the result of the outstanding success of the All-States picnic on Euclid avenue, Ontario, Saturday, the affair will become an annual event, it was announced today. Directors of the Ontario chamber of commerce voted at noon yesterday to annually sponsor the celebration

With estimates placing the attendance at 20,000 people, the picnic exceeded the conservative expectations.

Profiting by the experiences met in arranging for the first picnic, those in charge are already planning for the 1940 celebration. If the interest increasess as anticipated, additional table space will be needed. Upland organizations may also be called upon to become more active in planning for the event and ultimately it is the aim to make the celebration one for all communities in the Chaffey district.

While estimates of the attendance are more or less uncertain, an idea of the size of the tremendous throng can be obtained from the report on the sales of candy bars and distribution of free coffee, milk and orange juice. Distributed were 700 gallons of orange juice, 900 gallons of coffee, 661 half pints of cream and 1,820 half pints of milk.

This new feature is expected to be a popular one with the many readers of The Upland News—and special interest will be centered on Mr. Mather's timely comments in next Friday's issue.

Weakened by the ordeal, Mr. Creighton will recuperate at home for some time.

Firemen Are Featured

Outstanding work of members of the Upland Volunteer Fire department was the subject of a special story and pictures in today's Los Angeles Times.

Their ever-readiness to respond to the fire alarm, day or night, was emphasized. It was pointed out that the 16 members meet once a week for drills and to improve the department and fire service. The department was organized in about 1910 and several members have belonged since it was first formed.

The pictures showed the firemen at work—Chief Jake Voth receiving a call, Howard Paulin driving the truck, Amos Colborn carrying an axe while climbing a ladder to reach the fire and Glenn M. Atwood and Pete Benton replacing the hose after extinguishing a fire.

ADVISORY BOARD OF ENGINEERS TO TELL OF PROJECT

Official attitude of the county board of supervisors relative to the proposed San Antonio canyon flood control project may be known next Monday when action may be taken concerning a report of the advisory board of engineers.

Detailed plans for the $12,400,000 undertaking were filed with the supervisors last week. The board than gave the county engineers the task of analyzing the plans. Indications today were that the local engineers would report at the supervisors' meeting.

TO CARRY WEIGHT

Recommendations for or against construction of the retention dam and flood control project by the supervisors is expected to carry considerable weight in the fate of the proposal.

Tentative plans for an inter-city conference have been temporarily delayed, according to Ralph Shoemaker, Claremont engineer. He was in Upland last Friday relative to arranging for a conference of officials of the six cities concerned in the project.

TO ELIMINATE FEELING

"When we learned that petitions protesting the project were on their way to Congressman Sheppard, we decided to postpone any conference," Mr. Shoemaker explained today. "There is no reason for any feelings between communities along the canyon and we had thought that a discussion of the matter around a table would eliminate any criticism from one group about another group."

As to the reported allocation of $706,000 by the House of Representatives in Washington for the canyon work, Mr. Shoemaker said he understood this money was to be used for preliminary work.

Previous Injury Is Duplicated as Mrs. Sadie Benner Hurt

Falling from a table while cleaning the walls of her home, 433 North Eighth avenue, Mrs. Sadie Benner sustained a fracture of her left leg on May 16. Mrs. Byron Crumbley of Wilmington, a teacher in the Banning high school in San Pedro, came up to attend her mother and on Sunday Mrs. Benner accompanied her home, where she will remain during her convalescence.

Mrs. Benner's friends have made many inquiries concerning her injury and for their benefit her address is given: Post office box 261, Wilmington.

A Constructive Program

Quite frequently when Republicans point out—and truthfully so—the failure of the New Deal to restore the country to at least a semblance of economic recovery the New Dealers invariably yell back: "Well, what would you do?" That's a fair question—and one the Republicans should answer. They are doing just that.

The Republican leader of the House in Washington, Joseph W. Martin, Jr., gave the answer a short time ago when he outlined a twelve point program to restore recovery and put the twelve million unemployed of the nation back to work. Mr. Martin might have mentioned others—but he confined himself to enumerating the things that should be done to stimulate business. Undoubtedly he was wise in doing so, for there the emphasis should be. Get the country back to economic stability, decrease unemployment, raise farm prices and some of the other problems will take care of themselves.

Mr. Martin's proposals included keeping the country out of war, reducing federal expenses, revising federal taxes that bear down heavily on business, repealing discretionary authority over the monetary system, amending the labor relations act, limiting the area of government competition with private business, restoring American markets to the American farmer, rehabilitation of the railroads—and putting an end to experimental legislation.

That certainly is a program that challenges the New Deal—and it cannot be laughed off for the reason that virtually all economic authorities contend it should be carried out. Until the New Dealers either put over a plan that will bring at least some improvement in conditions in the nation or demonstrate either the impracticability or impossibility of this Republican program they should quit harping on that "what would you do" stuff.

It has been the history of our country that Republican policies have invariably restored prosperity following periods of depression. Nothing the New Dealers have done has resulted in any permanent improvement. Experiment has followed experiment in a long series of attempts to pull the nation out of the depths of its worst depression—and its longest—but there is no improvement. On top of this disastrous failure we have the national debt leaping to a new high day after day.

In the light of such circumstances would it not seem the wise thing to return to power at the general election next year the party which has brought forth the desired results in similar cases in years past? Surely ,there can be no good reason for keeping in power the party that has failed so dismally over a period of years that should have been ample to accomplish its avowed purpose.

Strawberry Shortcake

The season for strawberry shortcake is now with us—and in California it runs to greater length than anywhere else in the country. Lucky Californians!

Seems to this News Guy there is something wrong with the tasting apparatus of the fellow who does not like strawberry shortcake—and I am sure his tribe is not numerous.

According to the dictionary, shortcake is "a dessert of very short baking powder biscuit dough, typically cooked in a large cake and served hot, after having been split, buttered and spread with sweetened fruit, especially juicy, fresh fruit, such as strawberries."

That may be a good definition of shortcake—but it doesn't begin to tell how good strawberry shortcake really tastes. Specifying that it should be served hot is a wise recommendation—for putting a piece of cold shortcake before a fellow is really a gastronomic outrage for even strawberries can't improve a cold shortcake. However, shortcake need not necessarily be of the large variety. In fact, I prefer mine be the small variety—and several of them. And right now when strawberries—aristocrat of desserts—are selling so cheaply you can really pile 'em on the shortcake—on top, inside and have them oozing all around the sides. Of course, it is necessary—in order to get best results—that butter be spread inside in rather generous quantity (if you can afford it) as recommended by the fellow who wrote the definition for the dictionary. It should be sweetened to your particular taste, covered with cream—and then you have a dessert that eclipses most anything the most expert culinary artist can concoct.

However, running a close second with strawberry shortcake (so far as I am concerned) is a great, big, red, juicy, sweet, directly affects us Californians.

A Right Start

It's indicative of a wholesome social condition when men and women can gather in conferences and informally discuss today's vital problems.

Citrus growers, school teachers, businessmen and other interested persons gathered on the Chaffey campus today for the first meeting of its kind in this district. What may be the result of this meeting is problematical. Perhaps there will be made a real start. Nevertheless the discussions will set minds to thinking on the question of "What's Wrong With Conditions?" and "What Can Be Done About it?"

"I Can Get It Wholesale——" That statement, title for one of the discussions, depicts a condition that is the worry of every businessman—not only in Upland but also throughout California. What is said about this condition today will undoubtedly present two sides.

"Is Lightening of Taxation the Way Out?" Everyone is vitally affected by taxes, direct and indirect. The scores of persons hearing this discussion will get many good points. Half a dozen other subjects are on the program.

Laymen's Educational Conference is the title given to today's meeting. All the service club members in this district and the general public were invited to attend. Chaffey officials are giving their full cooperation.

Today's meeting is an experiment. It's a step in the right direction. An exchange of views is worthwhile. More conferences of this kind should be held.

It appears that Governor Olson is strenuously opposed to nepotism—except when it affects members of his own family. He recently ordered a purge of all relief workers who are relatives of higher up employes of the state relief organization. However, his son Richard is holding down a pretty good and honored situation in the state capitol. Apparently the purge does not affect relatives of those who are not in the relief organization.

According to a foreign dispatch, European nations are spending $20,000,000 a day for armament. And still they are said to be broke.

Notes of Society

Cucamonga-Alta Loma Woman's Club in Final Session

May day luncheon party Thursday in the community hall of the new Alta Loma firemen's building concluded the season's activities for the Cucamonga-Alta Loma Women's club. With many district officers present as guests, the affair ranked as one of the major social and club events of the year.

Fifty women, including 15 guests, were seated at tables arranged in the form of a hollow square. Bowls of primroses decorated the tables, and place cards were in the form of May baskets.

Presided over by Mrs. Harry M. Wright, the meeting honored past presidents.

Among the special guests were Mrs. Ray R. Sherwood of Upland, president of the San Bernardino county federation; Mrs. George S. Foster, of Alta Loma, Southern district vice-president; Mrs. Una R. Winter of Upland, past president of the Upland Woman's club and chairman of the Susan B. Anthony Memorial dedication committee; Mrs. Ernest O. Lee, president of Ontario Woman's club; Mrs. L. A. Fox, retiring president of Upland Woman's club; Mrs. Donald Hill, new president of Upland Woman's club; Mrs. E. Following an auditor's report by Mrs. E. S. Bishop, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. H. L. Salisbury, who reviewed the history of the club since its founding in 1908 by Mrs. Mary J. Reid, and her daughter, Miss Gertrude Reid, both now deceased. Since the founders marked the beginning of the club, Mrs. Salisbury has served as club historian. Newly-elected historian is Mrs. Leslie Foster, who begins her records with 1939.

Past presidents called on, and their term of office, were: Mrs. Bishop, six years; Mrs. E. R. Hively, three years; Mrs. L. J. Thomas, two years; Mrs. Francis Wagner, two years, and Mrs. Wright, retiring president, one year.

Past president's pin was presented by Mrs. L. J. Thomas to Mrs. Wright.

Musical program, arranged by Mrs. Charles P. Schaffer, included accordion quartet numbers played by musicians from the Southern California Music Co., Los Angeles. Toe dancing by Miss Velma Wright, daughter of the president, also proved entertaining.

Installing the new officers was Mrs. Sherwood. New executives taking office were Mesdames John MacPherson, president; Herbert Powelson, first vice-president; Francis S. Wagner, second vice-president; A. C. Beattie, corresponding and recording secretary, and Mrs. Edna Patterson, treasurer.

W. C. T. U. GIVES SPECIAL PROGRAM

All-Day Meeting Is Held at Methodist Church by Upland Union

An interesting business session and a very enjoyable Mother's day program combined to make a successful meeting of the Upland Woman's Christian Temperance Union, when more than 25 members and guests gathered in the parlors of the Methodist church Friday.

The business meeting was held in the morning, with Mrs. Ralph H. Marr presiding, and plans were made to attend the meeting of the County W. C. T. U. being held in San Bernardino today. Reports of the flower mission chairmen revealed a large number of calls had been made during the past month and many bouquets presented.

TO VISIT HOME

Plans were made for a visit to the W. C. T. U. home in Eagle Rock, where approximately 90 elderly women are cared for. Gifts of fruit for the home and personal gifts for the members of the big "family" will be presented by the local union.

Posters made by pupils of the junior high school in the scientific temperance instruction contest are being judged and announcement of the winners will be made shortly. The posters, which are unusually fine this year, were on display during the meeting Friday.

A contributed dish luncheon was enjoyed during the noon hour, with the afternoon session following.

AFTERNOON PROGRAM

The Rev. John P. Mandtler, pastor of the Upland Church of the Nazarene, conducted the devotional service and in keeping with the theme of the program, he gave an inspiring talk on "Mother". The minister, who possesses an excellent voice, also sang "Take Time To Be Holy".

Accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Vernon V. Paine, Mrs. Clifford Jellison sang "My Mother's Bible".

The informal program also included some expression from practically everyone present. Some read poems or articles concerning Mother's day, others sang their mothers' favorite songs, and several gave personal reminiscences concerning their mothers.

Little Patricia Paine, daughter of Mrs. Vernon V. Paine, accompanied her mother to the meeting and was initiated as a White Ribbon recruit.
